01 Brand introduction

Brand Story

A home is more than four walls.

It becomes yours through the name on the door, the picture on the wall, the object on your desk, the little details that remind you of who you are and what matters to you.

We created Beyond Walls for those details.

We believe the objects around us can do more than just to fill a space. They can carry a name, mark a moment, express a personality, or simply make a place feel a little more like home.

Tone Of Voice

Personal. Precise. Playful. Confident.

Say less, but make it mean something.

Tone Of Voice

Brand statements

Short, conceptual, memorable.

MAKE YOUR SPACE YOURS | A NAME. A PLACE. A LITTLE PIECE OF YOU.

OBJECTS FOR SPACES WITH PERSONALITY | FOR SPACES THAT SAY SOMETHING

YOUR SPACE. YOUR RULES | A LITTLE MORE YOU

02 Visual Identity

The Logo

The Beyond Walls logo combines layered frames and contrasting typography to represent the relationship between defined spaces and the freedom to move beyond them. The overlapping forms create a visual sense of extension, while the typographic contrast reinforces the tension between “BEYOND” and “WALLS.” Together, these elements express the brand’s belief that a space is more than its physical boundaries, it becomes meaningful through what we place, create, and express within it.

Logo Clear Space

The clearspace is meant to be maintained at all times for clear and optimum visibility of the Logo

Clear space is equal to the width of the stem of the “A” in the logotype which is X. Whenever Confused, Just make a propotional square equivalant to the stem of letter “A” in logo typeface.

Elements that enter this area violates the brand guidelines.

Logo Mark

Primary Mark

Secondary Mark

Note: The secondary mark should only be used in situations where the primary mark cannot be used. In all other instances, the primary mark should be used.

Incorrect Usage

In order to build a strong brand, it is essential that the logo is used correctly and consistently. This page illustrates some incorrect uses of The logo:

A. Should never be scaled disproportionatly.

B. Should never be used in a tilted position.

C. Should never be changed into outline color from solid color

D. Should never put the logo over an image that are not aligned with our brand.

E. Should never have drop shadow applied to it.

Brand Colours

This color palette is designed to establish a strong and recognizable identity which gives consistency to all brand materials.

Logo On Background

The logo should be used only on backgrounds featuring the brand's approved colours. It must never be placed on random or unapproved colours that are outside the brand colour palette.

The logo may occasionally be used over an image, provided the image is relevant to the brand and does not compromise the logo's visibility or legibility.

Typeface

Primary: Clash Display

Clash Display brings a bold, expressive, and contemporary character to Beyond Walls. It is primarily used for headlines, titles, and key brand statements.

Secondary: Space Grotesk

Space Grotesk adds a clean, modern, and highly legible touch. It is used for body copy, product information, captions, and supporting text.

Together, they create a balance between expression and clarity.
